

Fill in the gaps

| I got my (1) real six-string        | We were young and restless                |
|-------------------------------------|---|
| Bought it at the five-and-dime      | We (12) to unwind                         |
| Played it till my (2) bled          | I guess (13) can last forever             |
| Was the summer of '69               | Forever, no                               |
| Me and some (3) from school         | And now the (14) are changing             |
| Had a (4) and we tried real hard    | Look at everything that's come and gone   |
| Jimmy quit, Jody got married        | Sometimes (15) I (16) that old six-string |
| Shoulda known, we'd never get far   | Think about you wonder (17) (18)          |
| (Oh) (5) I (6) back now             | wrong                                     |
| That summer seemed to last forever  | Standing on (19) mama's porch             |
| And if I had the choice             | You (20) me it would last forever         |
| Yeah, I'd always want to be there   | (Oh) and when you held my hand            |
| Those were the best days of my life | I (21) that it was now or never           |
| Ain't no use in complaining         | Those (22) the best (23) of my life       |
| When you got a job to do            | (Oh) yeah                                 |
| Spent my (7) (8) at the             | Back in the summer of '69                 |
| drive-in                            | (Un-huh)                                  |
| And that's when I met you           | It was the (24) of '69                    |
| Standing on your mama's porch       | (Oh) yeah                                 |
| You (9) me that you'd wait forever  | Me and my baby in '69                     |
| (Oh) and when you held my hand      | (Ohhh)                                    |
| I knew (10) it was now or never     | It was the summer                         |
| Those were the best days of my life | The summer                                |
| (Oh) yeah                           | The summer of '69                         |
| Back in the (11) of '69             |   |
| (Ohhh)                              |   |
| Man we were killing time            |   |
