Just Another Birthday by Casting Crowns

Sixteen (1) me	But it's just another birthday
Blowing out candles and making wishes	And I'm not fine
And all around me	I'm not fine
Is everyone but the one I'm (2) for	In the company of strangers
And he sent me flowers	In a cold and sterile room
And gift-wrapped excuses	All alone with a (4) inside me
From a daddy whose daughter	And I don't (5) what to do
Wants to see him again	Jesus, can You (6) me
And I know, I know	Come and heal my brokennes
It's just another birthday	Put the pieces (7) together
But I guess I thought	And be a Father to the fatherless
This would be the one	A Father to the fatherless
When he would call me, see me	Twenty-one finds me
Hold me and free me	Blowing out candles and making wishes
But it's just another birthday	And all around me
And I'll be fine	My (8) princess twirls and sings
I'll be fine	It's so amazing
Nineteen finds me	Looking back at all God's brought us through
And I'm wild-eyed and wide open	You are my happy birthday
I gave myself away to love	And you (9) born to break the chains
But backseat promises fade like a mist	Now I know, I know
I'm screaming at the midnight air	It's not just another birthday
Everyone hears me but I don't care	'Cause I'm here, she's here
My heart's clenched just like a fist	And look how far we've come
'Cause, people, I didn't ask for any of this	Since you've called me, saw me
And I know, I know	Held me and freed me
It's just (3) birthday	Thank you Lord for another birthday
But I guess I thought	And we'll be fine
This would be the one	We'll be fine
